Panthers claw past YSU—advance to finals

Carl Gerdovich

The Cinderella story of Eastern's Panthers continued Saturday afternoon at O'Brien stadium.

Eastern moved one step closer to a national football championship with a 26-22 come-from-behind win over Youngstown State in the semi-finals of the NCAA Division II playoffs.

The Panthers now advance to the national championship this Saturday in Longview, Texas to meet Delaware, who stormed the nation's number one ranked team, Winston-Salem, 41-0 in the other semi-final game.

"Just a fantastic season. I don't know how much more exciting it can be," a delighted head coach Darrell Mudra said.

What Mudra has done to the Panther team appeared highly unlikely at the season's start, especially after Eastern finished 1-10 a year ago. Football's amazing miracle worker has guided the Panthers to within one game of the ultimate championship crown.

Trailing by eight points midway through the fourth quarter, Eastern's successful fortunes continued. Minutes later the Panthers grabbed the lead which they managed to hang on to.

James Warring grabbed a 12 yard pass from quarterback Steve Turk cutting the margin to 22-20 Youngstown. A two-point conversion attempt failed in an attempt to tie the score.

Following Eastern's kickoff, the Penguins turned the ball over on the first play from scrimmage.

Protecting a narrow two point lead, Youngstown chose to run a sweep to the left side. Penguin quarterback Keith Snoddy's pitch to Marschell Brumfield was fumbled as the Panther's Tom Pettigrew recovered. From that point, the miracle took place.

Poke Cobb skipped across the goal line with 4:04 left on the clock, giving Eastern the lead.

A rainy, miserable day hampered both teams execution all afternoon, especially the Panthers. Turk was intercepted five times, while two Penguin turnovers proved their downfall late in the game.

Mudra was aware of the chance for the big break, knowing mistakes are always factor.

"They were running on us pretty good," Mudra said. "We decided at halftime we had to shut them off inside. We gave them that play outside (Dumas fumble). We felt there's a better chance for a mistake if they pitch the ball, especially with the field conditions."

The Panthers were protecting a four point lead late with just 18 seconds remaining. In punt formation, Scott McGhee ran the ball attempting to use up as much time as possible. Failing to reach the first down, Youngstown took possession.

Anticipating the win, Eastern fans surrounded the sidelines with 14 seconds showing on the clock. Reserve Penguin quarterback Bill Fink slipped down at the 42 yard line as the fans stormed the field with Youngstown (See CAMPANA'S page 16)

Classes still on despite chance at national title

by Linda Charnesky

Classes will be held both Thursday and Friday although students planning to attend the football game Saturday will be excused from their classes, President Daniel E. Marvin, said Sunday.

However, Marvin said that after consulting with the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate he has asked teachers not to schedule exams on Friday.

Students who miss important work on Friday to attend the game may make up the work after an official excuse is obtained in advance of the contest, he added.

Marvin added that excuses will be given only if the student can present documented evidence that he will be attending the game in Longview, Texas.

Penguin coach won't protest

by Chris Squire

Despite fan interference during the last two seconds of Eastern's semifinal game Saturday, Youngstown coach Bill Narduzzi said Sunday there will be no protest.

Narduzzi said, however, that if the officials had did their job of clearing the crowd of the field, his team would have gotten another opportunity to score.

With two seconds remaining on the clock, fans rushed on the field, preventing Youngstown from getting another play.

Eastern Athletic Director Mike Mullally said the Panthers also could have been assessed with a 15-yard penalty for fan interference. This would have given Youngstown another play and a shorter distance to go.

Mullally said, "The fans should have been responsible enough to stay off the field." Mullally also said campus security did the best they could to control the game.

Jack Chambers, chief of detectives, said there were 11 officers on duty at the game, but the roar and excitement of the crowd drowned out the public address system.

"The crowd was so loud we couldn't hear our own radios," Chambers said.

Athletic Director Mike Mullally: "The fans should have been responsible enough to stay off the field."

However, Ben Martin and Vem Linquist, the ABC commentators for the game, did not criticize the Eastern fans.

Martin said the fans should have waited until after the game was over before swarming the field, but Linquist said that since Eastern has not had a winning season in 17 years the actions could be expected.

The controversy began after Eastern had taken the lead 26-22. The Panthers stopped a Youngstown drive with a little more than a minute left in the game.

The Panthers were forced to punt before time ran out. Scott McGhee, the Eastern punter, faked the punt and failed to make the necessary yards for the first down.

With 18 seconds left on the clock, Youngstown had the ball on the Panther 34 yard line.

But, the officials said, two seconds more should be shown on the clock, and ordered the clock reset.

While the clock was being reset, Panther fans thought the clock was running out, and security police and school officials had to clear the field of fans so the remaining 20 seconds of could be played.

Security Captain Jack Chambers: "The crowd was so loud we couldn't hear our own radios"

On the next play, the Youngstown quarterback slipped and fell to the turf and the Penguins were unable to get off another play as fans rushed the field with two seconds left.

Spacecraft to orbit Venus

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The first American spacecraft intended to orbit Venus will arrive at the cloud-shrouded planet Monday, leading a flock of U.S. and Russian probes that will attempt to investigate Earth's nearest neighbor.

Trailing the Pioneer Venus I orbiter are five more American probes that are the first U.S. craft aimed at the planet's surface. The probes were self-contained pieces of a single craft that split apart as it neared the planet. They are to reach Venus on Saturday.

One will incinerate after briefly studying the harsh atmosphere. The others will plummet to the surface and be destroyed by the planet's crushing pressures and intense heat.

African blacks to vote

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa (AP) - Blacks in this South African-administered territory vote for the first time Monday in elections for a bi-racial legislature. But key opposition groups have called for a boycott of the polls, contending the balloting is rigged to favor white-dominated parties.

South Africa, meanwhile, signaled it is ready to go along with U.N. demands for later, U.N.-supervised elections.

U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim said Sunday in New York that South African officials had told him they would "retain authority" in the territory until such U.N. elections are held there early next year.

Bilandic to limit pay hike

CHICAGO (AP) — The Sun-Times says Mayor Michael Bilandic expects to hold a pay raise for aldermen to about 43 percent, thus giving them an annual salary of $25,000.

The newspaper quoted sources in its Friday editions as saying Bilandic will negotiate the matter with city council leaders, who may have become emboldened by recent moves by the Cook County Board and state legislators hiking their pay substantially.

The sources said Bilandic will argue that the constraints of his new city budget, which awards modest pay hikes to city employees and cuts property taxes by $1 million, will not permit what he feels is an unreasonable aldermanic pay hike.

Conference to boost trade

MOSCOW (AP) - Two U.S. Cabinet members and scores of America's top business executives were gathering Sunday in Moscow for week-long talks designed to boost trade between the two superpowers.

Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal arrived Sunday, joining Commerce Secretary Juanita Kreps who flew in Saturday.

As many as 20 private jets were bringing in the leaders of top U. S. corporations to Moscow's Sheremetyevo Airport.

About 350 American businessmen plan to take part in the annual meeting of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Trade and Economic Council.

Israelis: Resume talks

JERUSALEM (AP) - The majority of the Israeli Cabinet was reported Sunday favoring a resumption of the stalled Washington peace talks based on the U.S.-proposed target date of late 1979 for moving toward Palestinian autonomy in occupied lands.

Semi-official Israeli Radio said no formal decision was made at the Cabinet meeting but most ministers were inclined toward reopening talks. The question of linking an Egyptian-Israeli treaty to Palestinian self-rule through some kind of timetable has been the major stumbling block to a settlement.

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt has announced his country's acceptance of the U.S. target date proposal in a letter to President Carter. But the Israelis have balked at setting such firm guidelines, saying it could lead the Egyptians to abrogate the entire treaty if a timetable for Palestinian autonomy is not met.

Roaring fans fill stadium, storm field

by Laura Rzepka and Cathy George

The sweet smells of victory and schnapps were in the air Saturday as an estimated crowd of 8,000 rowdy fans packed the stands to howl the Panthers to victory over Youngstown State.

Banners proclaiming "EIU #1-ABC #1" and "HI MOM-SEND $$$/HI DAD-SEND BEER" lined the fences circling O'Brien Stadium.

The Pi Kappa Alpha fire truck and a cement mixer with "Youngstown Penguins" painted on the side announced the start of the game with blaring sirens and horns.

Umbrellas, plastic bags, blankets, confetti and signs decorated the stands.

Before the game, the crowds would come to their feet and wildly wave arms, banners and bottles when the ABC cameras panned the bleachers.

One observer, sophomore Beth Gerak said a line formed at the gate by 9:15 a.m. Chants of "EIU" were vibrating the stands by 10 a.m.

"It was just us crazy ones up there," Gerak said. "It's cold but it's worth it."

Junior Nick Lloyd said Stevenson Tower had a kickoff party at 9 a.m. to prepare for the game.

"The team is hungry for a victory and if we win today (Saturday), we'll win in Texas," he added.

The party continued in the stands.

Despite the cold and rainy weather Panther fans came out by the thousands Saturday to cheer the gridgers to a 26-22 victory over the Youngstown State Penguins.

Senior Jamie Adams said, "I got my booze in fine."

Various Carman residents also said they had no problem bringing liquor in.

Although sophomores Karen Olivi and Debbie Peppers said they couldn't imagine being drunk that early in the morning, Peppers added, "tonight is a different story.

Fans lined the field with 18 seconds left and stormed the gridiron when the clock ran out the first time to allow it to be reset.

Thinking the game was over, fans tore down the goal posts and encircled the players. However, since 20 seconds were still remaining, the fans had to be persuaded to leave the field to avert a potential penalty

Once the game was finally over the exuberant fans made plans to cheer once more-in Longview.

New board to convene

The newly established University Union Board, which will serve as the advisory and budgetary body of the Union, will meet for the first time Monday.

The Union Board will meet at 7 p.m. in the Union addition Schahrer Room.

Financial Vice President Tom Dersch said the board will meet to discuss its duties and responsibilities.

The Union Board is comprised of a voting membership of eight students and three faculty.

Faculty members include Timothy Gover, James D. Motley, and Sally Jo Wright, members of the accounting and finance department, Dersch said.

Only six of the eight students have been selected.

They are Cedric Chester, Mark Davis, Bill Houlihan, Todd Daniels, Dwight Kensil and Bill Mueller.

Fans' behavior mars victory

We're off to Texas, almost to the end of an almost unbelievable turnaround in Eastern's football game.

Saturday's game gave the Panthers some long-awaited revenge over Youngstown, and proved them more than capable of being national champions.

To even consider the football team in that light still seems strange since it has always been the weak link in the athletic program here.

But the Panthers' come-from-behind victory displayed their strength in a convincing fashion.

It also provided one of the most exciting afternoons of football ever held here.

Unfortunately, the victory is marred by the behavior of the fans who, before the game was over, flooded the field and began destroying it.

Their actions placed the end of the game in question, and could have turned the victory into a forfeit or protested game.

Everyone was happy and excited about the apparent outcome of the contest, but most were restrained even when, with three seconds to go, the game was ours.

Those who ran on the field were not helping the team and certainly did nothing to enhance the image of Eastern as a school of sportsmanlike fans.

We hope all who can will make the trip to Texas to support the team--it's been a long wait to get there.

And if we win the championship, let's stay off the field until it's time to carry the team off in celebration.

Pay needs study

Students should vote in Wednesday's Student Senate referendum to keep the current policy on reimbursing executive officers until more study can be done on alternate methods.

The referendum offers students several different policy choices. The senate is to use referendum results as a guideline for considering the current system.

The president, the two vice presidents and the senate speaker currently receive a tuition and fee waiver, while the Board of Governors and collective bargaining representative receive tuition only.

A move is underway in senate to abolish reimbursement for all executive officers.

The system may need to be changed or at least reviewed. That review should be done carefully, however, to eliminate any possibility of politics coloring the decision.

We suspect that those who are pushing so strongly for the abolition of the current system are doing so out of politics: they were vocally opposed to the winning executive candidates and waited until after the election to propose the referendum.

We encourage students to vote Wednesday, and we hope they approve further study, and not elimination, of the reimbursement policy.

Union's deficit

Thursday's Eastern News should be enough to convince any person of reasonable intelligence that there is something terribly wrong with the way in which the University Union is being run.

That issue carried stories on denial of table space to Model United Nations, denial of banquet space to an organization unwilling to use Union catering, moving of Friday's UB movie to the gym, and the proposal for playing WELH in the Union. The stories seemed related in one way: all pointed to an inability to diplomatically deal with people and a lack of organizational skills on the part of Union area head Bill Clark.

In the case of the Model UN, Clark seems to lack control over his subordinates and to have failed to clearly state Union policy to his staff and to student organizations.

Additionally, the card competition argument seems petty in the light of the small volume of sales anticipated, the fact that proceeds go to charity and the fact that the cards are still going to be sold on campus, just not in the Union.

The policy of denying banquet space to organizations not wishing University Union catering also seems petty when one considers that there are no other places on campus in which to hold a banquet.

In contrast, the problem with the UB movie is again one of organization. Clark seems unable to find time in his busy schedule for such trifles as adequate notice.

The topper, however, is Clark's proposal to play WELH in the Union vending room. Clark says this will be done if $62 is appropriated for changes.

Several facts need to be pointed out. WELH has a direct line to the Union which has gone largely unused. The major stumbling block to the use of this line has been Clark's opposition.

WELH has been played on rare occasions in the lobby outside the book store.

People in the vending lounge are studying and probably don't want to hear the station anyway.

What Clark is doing is clear: he has proposed the most limited, costly, time-consuming and impractical means of bringing WELH to the Union.

His proposal seems designed to sink WELH's chances of ever being broadcast to the Union.

In closing, I am not insensitive to Clark's argument that the Union should be run in a businesslike manner.

He should remember, however, that he is not chairman of the board of General Motors, but runs instead an organization whose primary purpose is service to the student body.

If economics were the only consideration, then the problems of massive Union deficits could be easily solved: close the Union.

Eastern's Union provides the poorest services of any Union I have ever seen anywhere.

These latest abuses only add to the list of items for which Bill Clark should be held accountable the next time an increase in fees is recommended.

Irrelevant

Editor:

In response to the editor's note concerning "Recognition," we feel that the editor's comments were facetious, irrelevant and ambiguous. The editor apparently misses the whole point of Mr. Stallings' letter.

The color of the editor is of no importance when choosing the photos if the subjects that he has to choose from do not consist of any blacks.

Mr. Stallings did not question whether or not Craig Stockel was responsible for the final selection of the pictures which appear each day, he simply states the fact that in a two month study, Mr. Stockel has not taken many photographs with black subjects. Thus many blacks feel discriminated against.

We felt that it was in poor taste for the editor to disclose the racial origin of the managing editor. Mr. Stallings main objective was not to question how many blacks are affiliated with the Eastern News nor the positions they hold; rather he intended to suggest that the practice of photographing non-black subjects be changed to include all students of all racial and ethnic backgrounds.

Take a trip

Editor:

I read with interest the article which appeared in the Nov. 15 issue of the Eastern News concerning the European Studies for 1979. My perceptions as a participant in 1978 convinced me that this is an outstanding program.

Dr. Wolfgang Schlauch of the history department, who is responsible for the planning and conduct of the program, is an exceptional person. He is not only a superior teacher but also a most capable organizer.

The educational experiences selected by Dr. Schlauch guaranteed the enrichment of all the participants in last year's program.

I recommend the European Studies Program for 1979 to all who seek an experience which is enriching and personally satisfying. Paraphrasing the Navy's slogan, "It's not just a trip--It's an adventure."

Attorney General Scott files lawsuit against Osco

by Paul Pinderski

A lawsuit seeking a $50,000 civil penalty and refunds for consumers has been filed against Osco Drugs, Inc., the attorney general's office said.

The suit charges Osco with violations of the Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act through misrepresentations in merchandising efforts.

The Osco store located in Charleston was one of six stores named in the complaint.

According to the attorney general's office, last October Osco advertised that the cost of any wrist watch regularly $9.95 and up would be reduced by $2.

Investigators asked about the $9.95 watches but were told by Osco sales people that Osco never had a $9.95 watch.

The attorney general's office added that several Osco stores failed to offer rainchecks when investigators asked about the non-available items.

Attorney General William Scott has stated he would ask the court to order Osco to refund money to customers who had to purchas higher priced items because of the store's false advertising.

The management of the Charleston stored refused to comment Sunday about the charges, but store officials said all comments on the suit would be handled through their regional headquarters.

The News was unable Sunday to contact a spokesman at Osco's Oak Brook offices.

White House outraged by legislator pay hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's chief inflation fighter said Sunday votes by Illinois and Ohio state legislators to give themselves raises are outrageous.

"This is in direct violation of the standards of responsible behavior set by the president in his Oct. 24 anti-inflation message," Alfred E. Kahn, chairman of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, said in a statement of the Illinois vote.

"I share the outrage that the citizens of the state have expressed to us in wires and telephone calls protesting the action," Kahn said.

The Illinois lawmakers overrode a veto by Gov. James Thompson in voting themselves a pay increase of 40 percent, from $20,000 to $28,000 for the next four years.

President Carter's anti-inflation guidelines ask that wage increases be kept to a maximum of 7 percent.

"It is only fair to recognize that all of these actions appear to be taken under statutes or constitutional provisions that limit raises to one every four years, and are therefore the first raises since 1975," Kahn said.

Speech classes to hear lecture by ABC editor

Rachel Ann Bottoroff, news editor and writer for ABC-TV in Chicago, will be a guest speaker in the speech-communications department Monday.

Bottoroff will be speaking to students in the rhetoric of women class at 10 a.m. in Coleman Hall Room 116.

She will also speak to mass media classes throughout the day. Persons wanting further information may contact the speech-communications office at 2016.

"The fact remains that they violate the standards; and no one from those bodies attempted to discuss them with me or with any of the responsible officials of the Council on Wage and Price Stability," he said.

"On the basis of such discussions, we might have shown them how they might have overcome the once-in-four-years problems while still complying with the president's standards, by accepting a maximum of 8 percent the first year and smaller percentages thereafter, with the average not to exceed 7 percent over the four-year period," Kahn said.

He added, "Coming from our government leaders - who should be setting an example - at a time when we are asking all the American people to exercise restraint in our common battle against inflation, they are outrageous."

Schnapps sales rise for game

by John Plevka

Although the Panthers looked hot on the gridiron Saturday afternoon, around 8,000 rain-soaked and chilled fans filled the stadium.

To thwart off the chill, many students found an anti-freeze in peppermint schnapps, which flowed freely in the stands throughout the game.

None of the three Charleston liquor stores reported selling out of the minty liqueur, but they all reported brisk sales.

"It was really hectic in here throughout the day," an employee of Bob's Package Liquor said Sunday. "We opened at 7 (a.m.) and we had people here throughout the day. And schnapps was the hot item."

"We went through six cases of half-pints and four cases of fifths," employee Art Dietrich said. "We were sold out of pints by Friday."

"It really made opening up at 7 a.m. worthwhile," Dietrich added.

Another Charleston liquor outlet reported the sale over 300 gallons of schnapps.

"The stuff really moves," Gateway Liquors manager Jerry Nikitas said.

Nikitas' store is the closest of the three to O'Brien Stadium and he reported that the sale of the peppermint stomach warmer was brisk throughout the weekend.

"We had a lot of people come in on Friday and stock up, but most of them were in on Saturday. And as usual, we had a lot of people come over from the game during halftime," Nikitas said.

"There was kind of a lull in sales during the game but it picked up at halftime and after the game."

He, like other liquor store spokesmen, said Friday and Saturday's sales surpassed any schnapps sales in recent months.

"We usually sell a lot for Homecoming, but this year's Homecoming was not exactly conducive to schnapping. It was 75 degrees out and that's not exactly schnapps weather. But Saturday was perfect: 32 degrees and raining," Nikitas added.

In addition to the sales of schnapps, all liquor stores reported the sales of other liqueurs--including Southern Comfort--were also up over the playoff weekend.

The third Charleston liquor store, Eastside, also reported better than average schnapps sales.

"Even though we don't get that many football game people in here--because of our locations--we were pretty busy," employee Dave Hoe said.

"Our customers count showed 562 people in here yesterday and that's a lot better than a normal Saturday."

"We didn't run out of anything, but we sold a heck of a lot of stuff," Hoe added.

In addition to the pre-game schnapps sales, all three outlets reported better than average post-game beer sales.

"Man, we went through a bunch of kegs sold to college students celebrating after the game," Dietrich said.

Despite the numerous celebration parties around town Saturday night, it was apparent that the students weren't terribly hungover.

Several major Sunday morning newspaper distributors in Charleston reported high sales, and most were sold out before noon.

"All of our papers were gone before noon, which is really unusual," a spokesman for Stop-and-Go said.

"I'm sure it was because of the game because most of the buyers were college students."

An employee of Wilb Walker's said, "We were sold out of the Decatur (Herald and Review) newspaper real early and I'm sure it was because of the game."

"I guess people enjoy reading about themselves when they have a winning team," he said.

Youngstown

ails to break Panther fever

On to Texas!

Eastern fans who have had little to cheer about during football games in previous years exploded in ecstasy for Saturday's semi-final victory over Youngstown State University.

Loyal boosters waited in line as early as 9:30 a.m. for the contest, scheduled for 11:30 a.m. but delayed 20 minutes so it could be broadcast regionally over ABC-TV.

The television coverage only added to the excitement, and since it was the first time an Eastern football game had been broadcast by a major network, a special booth had to be built above the press box as seen in the lower left picture.

And the Panthers themselves did much to arouse the crowd. From the moment Mark Campana took the opening kickoff all the way for a touchdown, Eastern fans knew they had a good team.

But so did Youngstown. Through persistent drives, mostly of running plays, the Penguins took the lead in the second quarter and a halftime lead of 19-14.

In the second half, though, Eastern took advantage scored twice, once on a Steve Turk— seen throwing in the middle right picture— to James Warring.

Named the offensive player of the game by ABC, Warring displayed his patented splits after the touchdown, as seen in the picture to the left.

But the Panthers were still behind by two points, having failed in their attempt at a two-point conversion.

The break came just after the ensuing kickoff when Youngstown fumbled the ball on a quarterback option and Eastern's Tom Pettigrew pounced on the loose ball over for a 26-22 lead as the 8,000 fans went wild.

When Eastern's defense was able to stop the Penguins in their last attempt to pull out a victory, Panther boosters sensed a win and headed for the field.

Most fans, like the ones seen in the far left, stayed off the field so the game could be completed. But a few thought the contest ended a little early and delayed the game by tearing down the goal posts and flooding the field.

In the end, Youngstown players like the one below, wept in the locker room while the grounds crew faced a littered stadium as seen in the picture in the middle left.

Local police 'scope' student star watchers

by Karen Kunz

Nearly 50 Eastern students on a field trip for an astronomy class early Wednesday received an unexpected visit from the Charleston police.

Henry Taitt, an instructor for physics 1054, said Thursday the students had travelled past Heritage Woods in the area of Southeast Park about 12:30 a.m. to take a look at the skies.

While they were setting up their telescopes on cement slabs intended for houses to be built on in the near future, Taitt said two Charleston police cars pulled up to check out the crowd.

He emphasized however, that the two policemen were "tremendously courteous" and as soon as they figured out they had been sent on a "wild goose chase," had a good laugh with the students.

"We even invited them to come back and take a look at Jupiter and Saturn with us and one of them did," Taitt said.

Female escort service to begin

by Josh Martin

A volunteer escort service will begin Monday evening for female Carman Hall residents to prevent attacks on those residents.

Recent attacks in the Carman Hall area, including the attempted abduction at Carman Hall Oct. 16, prompted the organization of the Carman "E System," hall counselor Scott Stevens said.

Another escort plan was designed to use cars or vans to bring females to designated points on campus. However, Stevens said the "E System" will be a volunteer walking escort service.

Female residents of Carman Hall and the male volunteer escorts have been provided with ID cards with starting times and drop-off and pickup points around the campus, Stevens said.

WEIC to host Glenn Williams on call-in show

Vice President for Student Affairs Glenn Williams will be the guest on WEIC's "Contact" program at 10:30 a.m. Monday

Dave Taylor, WEIC's program director, said the 30 minute program will allow listeners to call in to the radio station with questions for Williams.

Escorts will leave Carman Hall at 6:40, 8 and 9:15 p.m. every weeknight starting Monday.

Students who then wish to be escorted back to Carman Hall will be picked up at these same times, Stevens said.

A few of the buildings where students will be escorted to and from are Coleman Hall, Old Main, McAfee Gym, Booth Library and the Physical Science Building.

Bears take slim playoff hopes to S.D.

SAN DIEGO (AP) - The Chicago Bears and San Diego Chargers, two National Football League teams going nowhere this season, get some motivation Monday night - a national television audience - when they square off at San Diego Stadium.

The contest, to be televised by ABC starting at 9 p.m. EST, will be played before a sellout crowd of more than 60,000 fans. The Bears will be playing their third Monday night game of 1978 and will be looking for their first victory of the year under the lights. They lost to Minnesota 24-20 and to Denver 16-7 earlier on Monday nights. Chicago will be after its third straight victory. After opening the season with three straight wins, the Bears dropped eight in a row. But the two recent triumphs raised their record to 5-8.

San Diego, meanwhile, will be playing its first Monday night game since 1975. An up-and-down team all season, the Chargers bring a 6-7 record to the game. They had won four in a row before being flattened 23-0 by Kansas City last week.

Grapplers finish high in Illinois Invitational

by Keith Palmgren

Eastern's wrestling team performed up to coach Ron Clinton's expectations this weekend when the team competed in the 23-team Illinois Invitational in Champaign.

"The team is molding and shaping up just the way we thought they would at the beginning of the season," Clinton said. "I believe Eastern would have taken first in the tournament if the scoring was done on a team basis instead of an individual type scoring," he added.

In the competition, Eastern brought home three first place finishes, one second, two thirds, and two fourths.

Bob McGuinn took first in the competition at 134 pounds, winning a total of four matches. McGuinn defeated John Causey of Illinois in the championship match by the score of 13-10.

Gil Duran, who also wrestled at 134, took fourth in the tournament, winning two matches and losing his final two.

Eastern's Ralph McCausland took first at the 142 pound spot. McCausland defeated Don Prior of Northwestern in the championship match 4-0. Before this match McCausland had won his first four matches.

Kelly Jackson also wrestled at 142, winning one match and losing one. Keith Petri lost his first match at 142 pounds.

Dave Klemm took first in the heavyweight division winning three matches. Klemm defeated John Pasholk of Western 5-0 in the championship match.

Eastern's Randy Blakeman took second at the 118 pound slot. Blackman lost his final match to Tom Reid of SIU-Edwardsville 7-5 who was the eventual champ. In total competition Blackman won three matches while losing just one, which consisted of two pins and one decision.

At 167 pounds, Bob Stout took third in the competition. Stout won three matches, and then lost in the semi's to the eventual champ Tim Fiorine of Northern Illinois 4-2.

Gary Lambert lost his first match at 167 pounds.

Geno Savegnago won three matches at 190 and wound up third in the tournament. In his final match, Savegnago lost to Mark Hattendorf of SIU-Edwardsville 4-3. Hattendorf was the eventual champ at 190.

Doug Shafer wrestled at 126. Shafer won his first two matches, but lost in the quarterfinals to Don Larimer 7-3. Larimer was the overall winner at 150.

Mike Ries also wrestled at 150, winning two and losing one. Reis also lost to Larimer in the quarters.

Mark Granowski finished fourth in the tournament at 158. Granowski made it to the semi's before defaulting, when he reinjured his knee.

Mike Polz lost his first match at 158 to Russ Zintac of SIU-Carbondale 5-4. Zintac wound up second in the competition.

At 177 pounds, Rich Giese defaulted in his first match when he cut his thumb, which required stitches. Jim Blackcock lost his first match at 177 pounds.

"Overall, I was very impressed with the team's performance this weekend," Clinton said. "This weekend gave us a good indication where our strengths and weaknesses are," he added.

Clinton said that the team needs to work on conditioning, fundamentals, and weight loss.

"At this point, I don't want to change too much. We are right where we want to be but we do need to be a little bit more aggressive," Clinton added.

Clinton believes that Eastern and SIU-Edwardsville are the two strongest teams in the state, followed by Northwestern, Illinois, and Northern Illinois. "Eastern's team as a whole was one of the major attractions at the invitational this weekend," Clinton said.

The invitational proved to be a very physical contest.

"We knew that the competition was going to be very intense. Whenever you bring the best teams in the state and the players face their rivalries, you just know it is going to be physical and intense," Clinton said.

Clinton followed this by saying that the main objective right now is to keep everyone healthy, and to hope that people who are hurt will recover soon.

Southwest Missouri deals cagers first loss

by Brad Patterson

Eastern head basketball coach Don Eddy said last week that it would not surprise him if Southwest Missouri State ended the season in the final round of the NCAA Division II national tournament. Nothing that occurred Saturday night at Lantz Gym should change Eddy's mind.

The Bears rode 62 percent shooting and the 25 points of junior forward Mike Robinson to hand the Panthers a 68-67 defeat.

SWMS built up an eight point lead with 5:16 left, and survived some shaky ball handling and free throw shooting down the stretch to give Eastern its first loss.

The Bears, now 3-0 on the season, led 61-53 before Dennis Mumford connected twice from the left side. The Eastern press forced a turnover, and Mike Pickens hit on a driving layup to pull the Panthers to within 61-59 with 1:51 to play.

A Delbert Miller basket narrowed the margin to 62-61 a minute later, and after the Bears got a basket and a free throw, Pickens tipped in a miss to make the score 65-63. Then came the first of two big breaks Southwest Missouri received in the final minute.

With 45 seconds left, the Panther press again caused a turnover, and after two misses, freshman Ricky Robinson appeared to be fouled on a rebound, but there was no whistle and the play went the other way.

Just six seconds later, SWMS's Ed Lilieniek missed on a free throw, and the Panthers had a chance to tie. Miller rolled up from 20 feet away and was fouled, but the official ruled it a non-scoring foul and the ball went out of bounds to Eastern, who failed to convert. Lilieniek converted on two free throws, and Eastern trailed by 67-65. Mumford hit once again from the right side, and the Panthers called time out with 14 seconds to play.

The press failed to force a mistake, and Randy Towe hit the winning free throw which preceded Tom Thigpen's buzzer basket, which made the final 68-67.

SWMS's Robinson totaled his 25 points on 12-17 shooting from the field. Also in double digits for the Bears were 6-foot-6 guard Larry Lewis with 16, and center Harry Policape with 10 points.

Pickens had an excellent game on the Eastern side, scoring 16 points, handing out 10 assists, and pulling down six rebounds.

Mumford totaled 14, Robinson came off the bench to score 11, and Jim Williams had 10.

The game was tight throughout the first half with neither team having a bigger lead than four points.

Southwest Missouri coach Bill Thomas was relieved to get away with the win.

"I was really happy that we didn't let the crowd bother us, and that we didn't fold when we could have," Thomas said.

Eddy thought his team appeared flat, especially offensively.

"We did not look very sharp," Eddy said. "Our offense never did get unwound."

"We let them play their game," Eddy continued. "They got into their pattern style, and we played the same type of game."

Eddy bemoaned the fact that his team lost numerous scoring chances due to cold shooting.

"We had our opportunities, if we could have capitalized. We were getting good shots, but they weren't falling."

"They played a better game than we did, and they deserved to win," Eddy concluded.

Women cagers hang on to handle Western 64-63

The Eastern women's basketball team withstood a furious Western rally and held on to defeat the Leathernecks 64-63 Saturday at Lantz Gym.

The Panthers led by five points with 1:20 to play, but two turnovers later, Western was right back into the contest.

"I think we gave them about five chances to score in that last 1:20," head coach Melinda Fischer said. "Their press hurt us late, and we made some turnovers that almost cost us the game."

Eastern had defeated WIU by 13 points a week ago, but that game was played in a tournament, and Fischer said that the Eastern depth played a factor there.

"We are pretty evenly matched. When we beat them in the tournament, it was the second game of the day for both teams, and I think we are deeper than they are."

Marche Harris led the Panthers in scoring with 16 points, while Veda Argent and Lisa Williams added 12 points each.

Jo Ann Archer and Jo Huber had 8 points each, and it was Huber who hit a basket with only one second remaining in the first half to put the Panthers ahead by one point.

Fischer said that the contest was evenly well played. "We are quicker than they are, but they are bigger than we are."

Sandy Thorpe (11) fires from the outside in the women Panthers' win over St. Louis. (News photo by Craig Stockel)

The Panther junior varsity won its opening game of the season, defeating Western by a 78-45 score.

Defense earns Mudra's praise

by Carl Gerdovich

For Eastern's Panthers, Saturday offered the thrill of victory while for Youngstown State it was the agony of defeat.

Before an ABC-television audience, the Panthers continued to stun the sports world upsetting favored Youngstown State 26-22 in semi-final action of the NCAA Division II football playoffs at O'Brien Stadium.

The win gives Eastern an opportunity to meet Delaware for the national championship this Saturday in Texas.

It was turnovers, by both Youngstown and the Panthers, that set up the game's scoring highlights, excluding Eastern's first touchdown when Mark Campana returned the opening kickoff 90 yards.

"Campana has really come through for us the last couple weeks," head coach Darrell Mudra said. "He's been a big factor."

Each of Youngstown's scoring drives resulted from turnovers by the Panther offense. Perhaps one reason why Mudra was pleased with Eastern's defensive efforts.

"Our defense made a big adjustment in the second half and really shut them off when they had to. They simply went back to the basics," Mudra said.

"The only time Youngstown scored is when we gave them good field position," Mudra added.

The Panther offense did just that, leading the Penguins to their first three tallies.

Youngstown's Robby Robson dove from one yard out after cornerback Tom Jaros intercepted a Steve Turk pass. From the Eastern 34 yard line the Penguins drove in eight plays before Robson took it across.

A breakdown in the Panthers punt formation saw Cris Larsen's punt partially blocked, rolling out of bounds at the Eastern 29. The Penguins then marched in on four plays, Marschell Brumfield doing the honors from seven yards out.

Although the Panther mistakes appeared to recall the memories of the 1977 team's earlier meeting back in October when the Penguins intercepted Turk six times, Mudra said Saturday's turnovers didn't apply any extra pressure.

"I don't think anyone was letting the mistakes shake them up. We did some errors that made us vulnerable, but we had the advantage of scoring early. We were in the ball game despite the errors," Mudra said.

"The interceptions were just great plays by their backs. As for the blocked punt, hell, we do that every week," Mudra said smiling.

Eastern's James Warring and Pete Catan were named the offensive and defensive players of the game by ABC-TV.

Warring caught 10 passes for 107 yards and a touchdown while Catan harassed Penguin quarterback Keith Snoddy all afternoon. Catan was in on

Seward breaks leg, will miss final game

On the game's fourth play from scrimmage, Seward was setting up a block for Mark Campana, who was returning a Penguin punt. A Youngstown tackler dove at Campana, missing him, hitting the back of Seward's leg.

"When he hit me I just fell back and I bent over. I wasn't sure if it was broken," Seward said from his hospital room Sunday.

"After I realized the numbness, I just thought man this can't be happening to me. This is the semi-final game," he said. "I'm just sick about the fact of missing that championship game."

Seward's left leg was placed in a cast and he was expected to be released from the hospital Monday.

Seward was unsure as to whether he will accompany the team to Longview, Texas Wednesday for Saturday's championship game.

Soccer squad takes 3rd in nation

While the football Panthers were tearing down the goals Saturday afternoon, the soccer Panthers were chalking them up, dousing Southern Connecticut 2-1 in the national playoffs and finishing 3rd in the nation.

"This is the best Eastern has done in NCAA history and we're very pleased," head soccer coach Schellas Hyndman reflected, concerning the team's contribution to the record books.

The booters traveled to Miami, Fla. Friday to meet defending champions Alabama A & M who had totaled a 16-1-1 record for the season and had been rated 7th in the nation prior to the tournament.

Eastern bowed 5-0 to Alabama in the initial pairing in what Hyndman termed "an unbelievable game. They were just that tough and they were really playing well," he explained.

Early in the first half senior co-captain and three time All-American George Gorleku suffered a rib and knee injury which removed him from the remainder of the game and the tournament.

"We lost a lot of our confidence especially on defense when we lost George," Hyndman said. "He is the key to our defense and we needed that strength," the coach continued.

Junior Terry Rolheiser filled in for Gorleku at the sweeper back position, but the persistent A & M squad could not be halted. "They just couldn't be stopped," Hyndman admitted. "It seemed like anything they wanted to do, they did. And anytime they wanted to score they could."

After the 5-0 preliminary bowl, Eastern advanced to the consolation bracket at 11 a.m. Saturday where they met Southern Connecticut who lost to the eventual national champions, Seattle Pacific, in an overtime game in the preliminary rounds.

Coming off a humiliating loss against Alabama with the backbone of their defensive line on the bench due to injury, the odds seemed to be against Eastern in their final game of the season.

Sophomore striker Ross Ongaro rejuvenated the squad however in the 20th minute of the first half as he followed up a shot to the goal from the right wing by Colin Cumberbatch and placed it in the corner of the net.

Leading scorer Gordon Prempeh, though hampered with an ankle injury, also went to the net to add yet another goal to his season total, and the scoreboard, taking a pass from the midfield late in the first half, Prempeh as well as the goalie to score.

The Panthers went on to carry their 2-0 lead until the final minute of the game when Southern Connecticut knocked in a shot, which canceled Eastern's 12th shutout for the season but marked the 15th win.

"Our guys showed a lot of courage and sheer determination to come back after a 5-0 loss and beat a team as tough as Connecticut," Hyndman commented. "My own personal goal was to get to the nationals this year and after the Alabama game we could either take 3rd or 4th, so we gave our best effort for third and took it," he concluded.

Campana's return shocks Penguins at start having no timeouts remaining.

Hurrying to line up for one more play, Youngstown was unable to do so as Eastern fans blanketed the playing area.

"The fans almost cost us the game. It was ridiculous," Mudra said. "I think Youngstown should have had another play."

However, officials had said time had run out and when aware of that statement Mudra replied, "Well, I guess that settles that."

The Panthers recorded their 11th win of the season despite numerous turnovers that haunted their performance against Youngstown earlier in the season.

Senior Mark Campana shocked the crowd on the opening kickoff, returning it 90 yards for a quick 7-0 Panther lead.

After Youngstown scored following the first of Turk's interceptions, Lonnie Denton scampered home from five yards out for an eight point Eastern lead.

"We were kind of playing alley football," Mudra said. "We weren't really running precise patterns, but when you get on those kind of field conditions that's usually the way it ends up."

Eastern trailed 19-14 at the half as the Penguins dominated time of possession throughout the first quarter. Halftime statistics gave Youngstown a slight edge in overall yardage.

Each of Youngstown's scores came after numerous offensive mistakes by the Panthers, including the interceptions. What the Panther coaching staff did to overcome the miscues was no major change.

"We never make any big changes in a game. The few changes we do make are just assignments adjustments in regards to blocking," Eastern offensive coordinator Mike Shanahan said.

"We were five points behind, mainly due to turnovers and the field position we gave them," Shanahan added.
